The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

BIGGEST event on the local sport front tonight is the doubleheader in the Men's Basketball League out at Eastwood school gym. All games this week are being played at Eastwood—81 street, north of 118 avenue—in view of the fact that Westgreen place is not available.

Bechtel, Price, Callahan and Air Transport Command will play the curtain raiser attraction and U.S. Station Hospital clashes for the first time with Latter Day Saints in the second half of the double bill.

By winning tonight the Hospital capers can move into undisputed possession of third place in "A" section, a half game behind the Yanks, who beat them on Nov. 5, 49-38. Latter Day Saints are still looking for a win having been stopped by the leading U.S. Engineers and the Yanks in their first two starts.

Two of the finest performers in the league, Warren Tatham (Hospital) and Phil Smith (Latter Day Saints) will be in action in this game.

A victory for Air Transport in the first half will mean a win which will break in their two scheduled fixtures to date. Bechtels have taken it on the chin three times in a row.

SPEAKING OF RECORDS
ALTHOUGH they were playing the sixth game in nine days against Boston, on Sunday night, Canadians picked up 33 scoring points for a league record in winning their eighth game against two major teams.

The total of 45 points collected by both teams in that game was the most established on Jan. 11, 1938, when an earlier edition of Canadians lost 117 to Montreal Maroons. The 17 points registered Sunday fell one point off the record made in 1938.

And speaking of records—since they came into being in the Roaring Twenties, the column of records which Rangers have set are all of marks in the National Hockey League, but last season they set one which doubtless they would have preferred to see go elsewhere.

Using four goalers in an effort to stem the rubber floor, Rangers made up the schedule with 23 goals against, the highest ever recorded in this sport. To date they have played nine games and although every one has been a loss, 20 goals have been allowed past Ken McAuley, their rookie netminder who is doing a nice job rather than trying circumstances.

One of these goals scored against Boston was registered on Bud Bodner, a rookie from junior ranks with Maple Leafs. Bodner, who had started the start of the season—a new N.H.L. record, it may be recalled that he defeated Boston in the opening game of the current campaign.

Brick Muller Threw Longest Completed Pass in History

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Dr. Harold P. Muller prefers to be remembered as just a pretty good all-around end, but his niche in football immortality was carved largely by his having thrown the longest completed pass in the history of the game—70 yards.

The fact that he accomplished the feat under auspicious circumstances against a highly-rated Ohio State varsity in the famous Pasadena Tournament of Roses series made it all the more spectacular, drew it to the wide attention it is throughout the land.

It was here in the California-Ole State game of Jan. 1, 1921, Brick Muller, 17-year-old, red-headed sophomore whose hands hung like hunches of hands, gave a 70-yard pass. Standing on his 20, he repeatedly hit receivers on the goal line 70 yards away.

Dr. John W. Dille, the Buckeye coach, took one quick look at the exhibition and walked into the clubhouse to warn his men that everything they said about Muller was true—and then some.

MONTREAL, Nov. 23.—(CP)—Montreal's Buddy O'Connor came to the fore, after a strenuous week-end, to tie the Chicago's Bill Moskowitz for first place honors atop the National Hockey League's scoring list, with 17 points each.

Mud Brunelle, Red Wing, sprang into second place with 16 points, while the third place was taken by Sunday night when Detroit trotted out Chicago 5-2.

Winnipeg Bomber Coach Hints Hamilton Power Over-Rated

Wildcats Are No Super Team

Believe It Or Not

By Robt. Ribley

WINNIPEG, Nov. 23.—(CP)—Coach Reg. Threlfall (CP)—Coach Reg. Threlfall, who will lead his Winnipeg R.C.A.F. Bombers against Hamilton Wildcats for the Dominion rugby football crown Saturday at Toronto Varsity Stadium, can't be convinced the Wildcats are anything approaching the super team described in recent newspaper reports.

After bringing his ear to the broadcast of the Hamilton-Lachine R.C.A.F. eastern championship game Saturday, Threlfall was not impressed by the Bomber men's points out that in their last two games the Wildcats scored one touchdown on a fumble and another in the dying seconds of play.

"That doesn't suggest a powerful offense, does it, for a team that is reported to possess so much mustard on attack? Two touchdowns in two games and one of them is earned."

Threlfall drove Bombers through their first mainline workout of the season during the week-end and spent more than three hours with Al C. Brian Quinn and Sgt. Dave Greenberg doing the chugging. Both long and short passing plays were attempted and a real aerial offensive looms in the team's eyes for the east-west engagement with Hamilton.

Lester Shore, talented snapper who has been missing from practices with an injured shoulder, was in uniform at the drill, but Lt. Johnny Lake, star backfielder, was still absent.

Ches McCance, whose educated toe and sparkling backfield play, were prominent in drive to the western title, has been elected to call the plays in the game with the Wildcats. McCance will be a quarterback in name only, however, as he is the team's captain from his left half position.

In War Charity Game Suggests Grey Cup Winner Play Halifax Navy, Dec. 4

Coming, Coach

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—(CP)—Controller Fred Hamilton of Toronto said Monday night he has wired football clubs in Halifax, Winnipeg and Hamilton a suggestion that the winner of Saturday's Grey Cup final between Hamilton Wildcats and Winnipeg R.C.A.F. Bombers meet Halifax Navy here Dec. 4 in a war charity game.

The Grey Cup contest, emblematic of Canada's spirit of national pride, usually marks the end of the grid season in the Dominion.

But the war Navy squad announced its intention to challenge the Grey Cup winners after its application for admission to Grey Cup play-offs was refused.

A executive meeting was held Monday night, Timmis said, but there was no mention of the proposal. However, the club's president, Fred Hamilton of the Sports Service League, said he would like to see the game played in Toronto Dec. 4.

Motormen's Dispute

Council Again Refuses Action On Arbitration Board Award Pending Clarification of Act

City council Monday night re-affirmed its decision to take no action on either the majority or minority award of the arbitration board dealing with the dispute between the Edmonton Street Railwaymen's Association and the City of Edmonton until the Alberta Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act has been clarified by the legislature.

Demand from the Edmonton Street Railwaymen's Association that it be recognized as the bargaining agency for the street railway system's motormen was ordered tabled pending action by the legislature.

Also ordered filed was a communication from the Consumers League recommending the immediate acceptance by city council of the award by the arbitration board.

ASK IMPLEMENTATION

Appearing before council on behalf of the association, Joseph Cherrington, president, asked for the implementation of the majority award which named the Edmonton Street Railwaymen's Association the bargaining agency for the motormen employed on the street railway.

He said that the question of that majority had been determined by vote taken on May 1 last, and asked that the city recognize the British tradition of majority rule. At the conclusion of Mr. Cherrington's submission, Ald. Sidney Bowcott asked the speaker if he had asked by the majority rule several years ago, adding that the speaker had endeavored for years to create friction between groups employed on the street railway.

During a question period, Ald. Bowcott asked if there was any foundation to rumors that a strike was contemplated by certain of the street railway employees, and what, if any, were being taken by the city commissioners to meet such a situation if it did arise.

NO UNION STRIKE

It was possibly this rumor of intended strike action that caused Carl E. Berg, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, to intimate to council that members of the Street Railwaymen's Union, No. 568, had recently passed an unanimous resolution that its membership would not strike, and would maintain street car service if other motormen, not union members, decided to strike.

Speaking on behalf of members of Union 568, the present bargaining agency for the street railway department, Mr. Berg stated that he had assurance from the provincial government that amendments would be introduced at the next session of the legislature to clarify the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration act.

He said it was never contemplated that this act should be the vehicle to restrict existing labor unions. "Unfortunately," stated comment to city council the immediate acceptance of the award of the arbitration board appointed to investigate the case.

"Men, against my orders somebody here has been shooting craps with the prisoners of war."

The following points will briefly indicate the attitude of consumers' committees of Edmonton:

1. That the formation of an independent local union should be encouraged, as a healthy counterforce against the alarming growth of those international labor bodies with strong evil tendencies toward public distasteful financial and political corruption.
2. That as these men constitute the majority of their group the city administration is bound to accept their democratic right to recognition.

ATTITUDE INTOLERABLE

3. That the city commissioners have shown an attitude of mind intolerable to all decent Canadians, by their refusal to accept immediately the decision of the lawfully constituted arbitration board, and by their extraordinary solicitude for the end entrenched union which these street railwaymen have voluntarily and properly regulated.

4. The Consumers' League looks to the new city council to settle this matter immediately, and with regard exclusively for one vital principle, namely, the rights of these men as citizens of a democratic community. Not even the war effort can be cited as excuse for suspension of democratic rights—in fact this attempt to flout such rights is diametrically opposed to the principles for which most Canadians think they are now laboring and fighting.

"BEES" FOR YOUR BONNET

The bonneting lines become soft flatter when the hat is made in cotton crepe like the model at left above. The same easy, but impressive-looking style was used to make the accompanying handbag which is trimmed with bright beads. At right is another hand-crocheted team—a forward-dipping flat hat and a huge, drawstring carryall bag.

No. 2 A.O.S. Civilian Flier Is Married at Christ Church

An early afternoon wedding was celebrated at Christ Church Tuesday when Miss L. E. Irene (Betty) Miller of Edmonton, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. S. Miller of Lacombe, became the bride of Capt. Stanley John Bello, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bello of Toronto. The Rev. E. S. Olfendick officiated.

Before her marriage, the bride was employed in Edmonton with the provincial government, and the bridegroom is a civilian pilot with No. 2 A.O.S. here.

Excepted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a crown of white peonies and carried on long lines, with tiny buttons ornamenting the back. Sweetheart bouquet, long sleeves tapering over the wrists, and a full skirt were other features of her gown. Her champagne was held in place by a bouquet of roses and button mums, and the same flowers carried a bouquet made up of the same flowers.

Miss Dorothy Bolander was the bride's only attendant. She was dressed in a formal dress of light blue tulle, and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Best man was Capt. Donald E. Rathbone, and showing the guests to their places in the church were Patrick Hendry and Capt. Thomas Kellough.

For their wedding trip to Lloydminster, the bride wore a dress of green tulle and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. They will make their home in Edmonton.

Soviet Women Run Tractors

By ALEXANDER YAKOVLEV

MOSCOW, Nov. 23.—(CP)—

Nearly 20,000 young girls and women organized in brigades operate tractors on Soviet farms.

Most of these women brigades participate in an all-Union competition for the highest results of their work. The 1942 competition was won by the brigade led by Daryna Garmash Rybnova. All members of this brigade exceeded their planned work for the year and saved 6,000 kilograms (about six tons) of fuel.

For their wedding trip to Lloydminster, the bride wore a dress of green tulle and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. They will make their home in Edmonton.

EXCEEDED PROGRAM

Daryna Garmash and her girl friends are out to retain the 1943 banner. Towards the end of spring, the brigade exceeded the yearly program by 280 per cent. And with the autumn plowing drawing to a close Daryna Garmash and her mates stand a good chance of winning.

There are nine girl tractor drivers in Daryna's brigade whose ages range from 17 to 28. Daryna, a Ukrainian by nationality, is 23.

The girls work in shifts, night and day, in all sorts of weather. Daryna respects the machine very daily and is present during every

"The Doctor's Daughters"

By FAITH BALDWIN

THE STORY: When Jim Thompson becomes Doctor Hall's assistant, he joins the household. Nancy Hall, spoiled and bored, is flattered by his attention. Mrs. Hall, the doctor's wife, is a busy woman. Young Frank Edgar, however, is a trouble maker. Emily, a visiting nurse, is in the house. Nancy chides Jim for working so hard.

CHAPTER XIII

EMILY'S room faced the front of the house. She could hear every word Nancy was saying to Jim Thompson as they sat there on the steps.

"Don't go in yet. Father's up, at all hours."

"But I must see him Nancy. I'll wait here."

Emily could hear Jim come in the house. The screen door slammed, his feet pounded on the stairs, she heard her father's irritable roar of greeting, her mother's voice.

She heard Jim go downstairs again, two at a time. The door slammed once more. And Nancy said:

"You took long enough. No, don't go over to the apartment. Sit here."

Jim sat after a moment. "I should go and catch some sleep. There may be calls. I expect one, in fact."

"You'll be up all night," said Nancy. "Why in the world anyone wants to be a doctor."

"Don't you know," he asked, "having lived with your father all these years?"

"It's deadly," she said savagely, "and killing. A horrible business. Mother never had any fun."

Emily's retorted to it. "She said, 'I wish you'd been along tonight. It was nice on the beach. But I did get so bored. At first the sunmer was rather amusing, picking up old threads and then—well, it all went stale. Same faces, same gals, same lines, same—passes."

"What about Frank?" he inquired.

Pipe smoke, strong and sweet, drifted lazily upward, the scent of it was in Emily's nostrils.

"We had a fight," admitted Nancy and laughed.

Emily could not catch Jim's reply. But she heard Nancy's next sentence, clear and gay and entertaining.

"What in the world gave you that idea?—As if you could be interested in Frank Edgar?"

"A moment later there was a stir on the porch and Nancy said:

"I'm wide awake. Everyone else has gone to bed, I suppose. You'll be sooner get there than you will have to go out again. I've an idea, she said, take me driving. I'll come over and pay you a call, and make you some coffee and we'll sit up and drink it and gossip."

Possibly he demurred. Emily didn't know. But a little later she heard their footsteps on the wooden treads and then going, muffled, down the grass, and finally, down the gravel to the garage.

She rose wearily, undressed and went to bed. She thought, lying in the darkness. Serve you right. . . you had no business listening.

But she was conscious of a cold anger. Nancy must be out of her mind. Why shouldn't she go to Jim's apartment if he wanted to, bring him a cup of coffee, talk to him, . . . parade her little tricks. He would be in bed and asleep, but Nancy wouldn't think of that. She wouldn't of course question the decorum of the impulse. Now, adds the word decorum was as seldom used as the word indifference.

When had it begun? Had it started back in the old hospital days when they'd been just good friends, talking, laughing, working together? Or when he'd walked into the house on Atlantic Street a few weeks ago? Or the first time she had seen him look at Nancy with his blue eyes warming.

And knew that she was.
